"This is the third year that we have these host hotel locations and I believe that speaks for itself." says Tracy Reardon, Director of Spring Training Operations. "Each and every year we get rave reviews about all of these properties and it only makes sense to renew their contracts. As a league, we have come to love Plant City and the entire Tampa Bay area as a second home over the last 14 years and are always thrilled to partner with such amazing locations for the event. There are varied price points and since we were able to directly work with the hotels, the process for teams to get their reservations secured should be stress free. I'm looking forward to another year down in Florida with the staff, the teams and the fans!"
